Rep. García, Senators Durbin Introduce Bipartisan Legislation to Protect Children from Lead Poisoning

Representative
Jesús "Chuy" García

Safe Housing for Kids Act, which would require the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) to update its lead poisoning prevention measures to reflect modern science and ensure that families and children living in federally-assisted housing are protected from the devastating consequences of lead poisoning. Lead hazards in a home pose serious health and safety threats. According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), lead hazards such as dust and chips from deteriorated lead-based paint are the most common source of lead exposure for U.S. children. A 2021 survey conducted by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) found that lead-based paint is in 34.6 million U.S. homes, 89 percent of which were built before 1978—the year lead-based paint use in housing was banned in the United States. Left unaddressed, lead poisoning can cause long-term and irreversible health, neurological, and behavioral problems in children. Specifically, the Lead-Safe Housing for Kids Act would ensure that families and children living in federally assisted housing are protected from the devastating consequences of lead poisoning by adopting primary prevention measures to protect children in low-income housing, including:

- Prohibiting the use of visual assessments for low-income housing constructed prior to 1978 and require the use of risk assessments, a more accurate evaluation tool to identify lead hazards, before a family moves into the home;
- Providing a process for families to relocate on an emergency basis, without penalty or the loss of assistance, if a lead hazard is identified in the home and the landlord fails to control the hazard within 30 days of being notified of the presence of lead; and
- Requiring landlords to disclose the presence of lead if lead hazards are found in the home.

Representative Jesús "Chuy" García (IL-04), Senate Majority Whip Dick Durbin (D-IL) and Senator Todd Young (R-IN) introduced the Lead-

Cook County Health's Correctional Health Program at Cook County Jail Accredited for Quality Health Care Services

Cook County Health's (CCH) Cermak Health Services has earned accreditation from the National Commission on Correctional Health Care (NCCHC) for demonstrating full compliance with NCCHC's nationally recognized standards of care for correctional health services in jails. Cermak Health Services was recognized for its ongoing commitment to providing quality health services for the patients at Cook County Jail. NCCHC accreditation is a voluntary process. CCH's correctional health program was last accredited by NCCHC in 2009. The largest single-site correctional health service in the country, Cermak Health Services has led the way in developing innovative care models to improve correctional health care, offering patients comprehensive primary care, specialty care, dental care, mental health services, rehabilitative care, a pharmacy, and an infirmary. To earn NCCHC accreditation, Cermak Health Services underwent a rigorous professional assessment during the summer of 2023. During the assessment, a team of experienced physicians and experts in correctional health care surveyed the facility for compliance with jail-specific standards in several areas such as patient care and treatment, health promotion, safety and disease prevention, governance and administration, personnel and training, special needs and services, and medical-legal issues. Cermak Health Services operates the only Certified Opioid Treatment Program in a correctional facility in the State of Illinois, which was re-certified in 2023. Cermak Health Services was also nominated as a Substance Use/Misuse Center of Excellence Program by NCCHC.

New UIC Data: How Illinois Benefits When Immigrants Get Health Coverage

Public funding of healthcare coverage for the uninsured pays for itself in a panoply of benefits that reach well beyond the individuals who receive such assistance. A review of data by the Great Cities Institute at the University of Illinois Chicago research brief, commissioned by the Healthy Illinois Campaign and released at a symposium at the North Lawndale Employment Network offices, shows how two state programs for the uninsured bolster the significant contribution of non-citizen immigrants individuals to the state's economy and its tax base. The campaign aims to maintain funding for two existing programs, Health Benefits for Immigrant Adults and Health Benefits for Immigrant Seniors, which fill gaps in coverage by targeting Illinois residents who would otherwise qualify for federal Medicaid but are ineligible due to their immigration status. The recent cuts to these programs hurt not only individuals who can't get coverage, but their children, their families and the communities where they live. The fact sheet findings include:

- Immigrants Work: U.S. citizen adults aged 19-64, had an employment rate

- of 95.4 percent, while the employment rate for noncitizens in that age range was 96.5 percent.
- Immigrants Pay Taxes: Immigrant-led households in Illinois had $54.9 billion in spending power in 2021, paying $8.6 billion in state and local taxes and $13.1 billion in federal taxes.
- Productivity Rises: After the 2010 Affordable Care Act expansion of Medicaid, new recipients reported an 8 percent decrease in the number of workdays missed due to poor health. For more information please go to healthyillinoiscampaign.org.

Dominican University Honored by Three Higher Education, Immigrant Rights Organizations with Inaugural SUCCESS Award

Dominican University's ongoing commitment to supporting undocumented students has earned the institution high regards from a trio of higher education and immigrant rights organizations. TheDream.US, the Presidents' Alliance on Higher Education and Immigration, and Immigrants Rising honored Dominican during their inaugural SUCCESS awards ceremony in late March. The first-year event recognized committed institutions, student advocates, and higher education leaders who are supporting undocumented students' access and success on their campuses and beyond. # Cook County Health Celebrates the Launch of New Robotic Surgery Program

Cook County Health cut the ribbon on its Intuitive da Vinci® surgical system, celebrating the health system's new robotic surgery program. Robotic-assisted surgery allows surgeons to perform many different complex procedures with more flexibility. The process is often less invasive than traditional surgery because it is performed through smaller incisions. Cook County Health will use the da Vinci® surgical system to perform general, cardiothoracic, colorectal, head & neck, gynecological and urologic surgeries at John H. Stroger, Jr. Hospital. The robotic surgery program represents an $11 million investment over seven years to bring the latest surgical technology to Cook County Health. There are many benefits to robotic surgery over traditional surgical methods. Robotic surgery enables surgeons to perform complex surgeries through very small incisions, resulting in:

- Less blood loss during the procedure
- Less pain after the procedure

- Less scarring and fewer complications
- Shorter recovery time

In 2023, more than 10,000 surgeries were performed at Stroger Hospital. Cook County Health expects to perform more than 500 robotic-assisted surgeries this year, with plans to continue to grow the program year-over-year. For more information about Cook County Health's robotic surgery program, visit <https://cookcountyhealth.org/robotic-assisted-surgery/>. Photo Credit: Cook County Health

Forest Preserves Launches $10M Palos Preserves Trail and Restoration Project

The Forest Preserves of Cook County has broken ground on its largest ecological restoration project ever, a multi-year initiative that will also reconstruct and improve portions of the most extensive trail system in the Forest Preserves. Funded by the Illinois Department of Commerce and Economic Opportunity, the $10 million Swallow Cliff and Palos Trail System Infrastructure Improvements project will restore approximately 1,100 acres of natural land, mitigate erosion and upgrade accessibility and wayfinding markers on the trails. The Palos Preserves cover 15,000 acres, the largest contiguous area in the Forest Preserves of Cook County and the same size as the Indiana Dunes National Park. The site includes the Swallow Cliff stairs, Camp Bullfrog Lake, Little Red Schoolhouse Nature Center, Sagawau Environmental Learning Center, Maple Lake boathouse, and the largest Urban Night Sky Place in the world. The 78 miles of trails in the Palos Preserves has been ranked as a top ten hiking destinations in Illinois by

Trip Advisor and includes more than 24 miles of single-track mountain biking opportunities. For the trails, restoration during the project will address erosion in the area's ravines and hills and improve sight lines and the natural experience for trail users. Funding for Swallow Cliff and Palos Trail System Infrastructure Improvements project is provided by the Department of Commerce and Economic Opportunity and made possible through Build Illinois bond funds. Photo Credit: Forest Preserves of Cook County
