Por: Ashmar Mandou

Para la nativa de Aurora, Marguerite Hillock, Directora de Asuntos Externos y Asociaciones en Oncourse Home Solutions pagar por adelantado es un lema de vida que le inculcaron desde temprana edad. Hillock, cuyo padre fracasó en México, fue testigo del sacrificio que hizo su familia en un esfuerzo para que ella alcanzara nuevas alturas. “Mi padre llegó en los años 60, así que no proveníamos necesariamente de una familia adinerada”, dijo Hillock. “En mi casa se promovía la educación

Dr. Hector Garcia: Mexican American Civil Rights Activist

By Daniel Nardini

Running almost parallel to the civil rights movement in the southeastern part of the United States by Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., was a similar civil rights movement for the rights of Mexican Americans in the U.S. southwest by Dr. Hector Garcia. Dr. Garcia and his organization the American G.I. Forum fought important legal battles that desegregated the legal discrimination against Mexican Americans. Just as African Americans celebrate the legacy of Dr. King, so too should Mexican Americans and Latinos celebrate the legacy of Dr. Garcia. Dr. Hector Garcia was born on January 17, 1914, in the town of Llera, Mexico. His parents were school teachers. When the Mexican Revolution (1910 to 1920) broke out, his family fled to Texas to escape the carnage. Even though his parents were well educated, the Texan authorities did not accept their credentials due to the barrio laws---legal discriminatory ordinances that prohibited Mexican Americans from living in certain communities (white communities), being employed in certain professions, attending schools in white neighborhoods, and even being buried in white cemeteries. It is these laws that Dr. Garcia would eventually fight against.

Despite all of the discrimination he endured for his choice of going to college, Dr. Garcia was accepted and attended the University of Texas in Austin. He graduated from there with a degree in zoology, and studied medicine at the University of Texas Medical Branch where he received his doctorate in medicine. From there he interned at St. Joseph's Hospital at Creighton University in Omaha, Nebraska. In 1942, he was called up to serve in the medical corps of the U.S. Army during World War II. He served in the Italian Campaign. It was in Italy he met his future wife Wanda Fusillo. They married and when the war ended in 1945, Dr. Garcia and Wanda returned to live in Corpus Christi, Texas. During the war, Dr. Garcia had earned the Bronze Star Medal, the European African Middle Eastern Medal,

HISPANIC HERITAGE MONTH:

Director of External Affairs and Partnerships at Oncourse Home Solutions Marguerite Hillock

By: Ashmar Mandou

For Aurora native Marguerite Hillock, director of External Affairs and Partnerships at Oncourse Home Solutions, paying it forward is a life motto instilled in her from an early age. Hillock, whose father hailed from Mexico, witnessed the sacrifice her family made in an effort for her to reach new heights. “My dad came over in the 60s, so we did not come from an affluent background, necessarily,” said Hillock. “Education was promoted as freedom in my household. Education was at the core of everything we did. So, I always advocate for my nieces and nephews to value the importance of education and help to set them up. Unfortunately, my education was not linear, I experienced some challenges along the way. With the help of Oncourse Home Solutions, I was able to receive higher education as well as advance in my career.” Fifteen years ago, Hillock joined Oncourse Home Solutions as a customer service agent and steadily climbed the corporate ladder, which she attributed to her champion of colleagues. “I always felt encouraged here at Oncourse. I was always encouraged to go back to school, encouraged to lend my voice, and I felt my work was recognized.” Oncourse Home Solutions is a home warranty organization that is designed to assist homeowners by offering a range of home protection plans, covering unexpected costs, and providing on-demand service for repairs, maintenance, and improvements. “I feel so honored to be able to work for an or-

and the World War II Victory Medal. Upon returning home, Dr. Garcia had become a World War II hero.

However, discrimination was still an issue. Dr. Garcia fought for other Latino American veterans who were either not receiving their benefits promptly, or were being denied their benefits. To fight for the rights of Latino American veterans, Dr. Garcia formed the American G.I. Forum--an organization dedicated to fight not only for veterans but also for the rights of Mexican Americans. This fight soon became a crusade by Dr. Garcia for the basic dignities of all Latino American veterans. In 1949, the body of a fallen Latino American soldier named Felix Z. Longoria, Jr., was returned to the United States for burial. When Longoria's widow wanted her fallen husband buried in a military funeral at the Three Rivers chapel, the funeral director refused to allow this because Longoria was not white. Dr. Garcia and the American G.I. Forum took up the cause, and through the intervention of then U.S. Senator Lyndon B. Johnson, were able to secure a military burial with full honors at Arlington National Cemetery for Longoria.

This fight for Longoria was the opening salvo by Dr. Garcia and the American G.I. Forum to get rid of all the barrio laws that legally discriminated against Latinos. When the U.S. Supreme Court ruled in the case Brown vs. the Board of Education that overturned segregation, Dr. Garcia and the American G.I. Forum fought to enforce desegregation in the schools not only in Texas but also in Arizona and Colorado. Dr.

Garcia and the American G.I. Forum campaigned heavily for then Democratic presidential candidate John F. Kennedy who wanted to end segregation in the U.S. South and the U.S. Southwest, and when Kennedy won, the new Kennedy administration worked hard to roll back the barrio laws. Among the successes credited to Dr. Garcia and the American G.I. Forum was the repeal of the Texas poll tax that had prevented poor Latinos from voting, and the laws that prohibited Mexican Americans from living in white neighborhoods and being buried in white cemeteries. For his work, Dr. Garcia received the U.S. Presidential Medal of Freedom in 1980, and his last crusade was trying to help the towns and villages mostly populated by Mexican Americans along the U.S.-Mexico border. He died on July 26, 1996, at the age of 82.

como una forma de libertad. La educación era el centro de todo lo que hacíamos. Por eso, siempre abogo por que mis sobrinos y sobrinas valoren la importancia de la educación y ayuden a que se desarrollen. Desafortunadamente, mi educación no fue lineal, experimenté algunos desafíos a lo largo del camino. Con la ayuda de Oncourse Home Solutions, pude recibir educación superior y avanzar en mi carrera”.

Hace quince años, Hillock se unió a Oncourse Home Solutions como agente de servicio al cliente y poco a poco subió la escalera corporativa, lo que atribuye a su campeón de colegas. “siempre me sentí animada por Oncourse. Siempre se me aconsejaba volver a la escuela, a prestar mi voz y a sentir que mi trabajo era reconocido”. Oncourse Home Solutions es una organización de garantía de vivienda diseñada para ayudar a los propietarios de viviendas ofreciendo una variedad de planes de protección del hogar, cubriendo costos inesperados y brindando servicio a pedido para reparaciones, mantenimiento y mejoras. Me siento muy honrada de poder trabajar para una organización a quien realmente le importa la gente y siempre está dispuesta a prestar el mejor servicio a los propietarios de casa que lo necesitan”. Al lanzar la serie del mes de la Herencia Hispana, hacemos especial énfasis en Hillock, quien se desempeñó como miembro fundador de la junta y presidente de IL de HOLA, un ERG de Southern Company Gas, y es una campeona de DEI en Oncourse, con la esperanza de que su historia lo motive a dejar su huella en el mundo corporativo y donde la educación es la piedra angular.

Lawndale Bilingual News: ¿Qué importancia tuvo la educación en su formación?

Hillock: Las mejores notas, las notas más altas, eran las más importantes porque la realidad era que no se trataba sólo de ir a la universidad, sino de saber que para llegar allí teníamos que ser los mejores. Mi papá, cuando llegó aquí tuvo que enfrentar muchos retos. De hecho cambió su apellido después de algún tiempo de haber estado aquí porque tenía problemas para avanzar. Tenía problemas para conseguir trabajo. Así que la educación era muy importante. El nunca fue al colegio. Tenía una educación limitada. Mi papá veía la educación como libertad, como programar la próxima generación. Se sacrificó para que yo pudiera llegar a este nivel y debo retribuirlo a otros.

Lawndale Bilingual News: A medida que más latinas van dejando su huella en el mundo corporativo, ¿qué consejos daría en términos de ascender en la escala corporativa?

Hillock La realidad es que están enfrentando mucho de lo que yo enfrenté ganization that really cares about people and ready to provide the upmost service for homeowners in need.” As we kick-off our Hispanic Heritage Month series, we place a spotlight on Hillock, who served as a Founding Board Member and IL Chair of HOLA, a Southern Company Gas ERG, and is a DEI Champion at Oncourse, with hope her story motivates you to make your mark in the corporate world and where education is the cornerstone.

Lawndale Bilingual News: What emphasis did education play in your upbringing?

Hillock: The best grades, the top grades were the most important because the reality was, it wasn't just going to college but knowing that to get there we had to be the best at it. My dad when he got here, he faced a lot of challenges. In fact, he changed his last name after some time that he was here because he ran into issues advancing. He ran into issues getting jobs. So, education was a big deal. He, himself, never went to college. He had limited education. My dad saw education as freedom, as setting up the next generation. So it is innate in us that we just don't do it for ourselves, but we set up the next generation. He sacrificed so that I can get to this level, and I must pay it forward.

Lawndale Bilingual News: As more Latinas are making their mark in the corporate world, what advice would give to them, in terms of moving up the corporate ladder?

Hillock: The reality is that we are facing much of what I faced when I was applying for college. I didn't know what I didn't know because I didn't necessarily have a large network of people who have been there before or people, I could lean on guide me. Over time I have built that network, and I think that is critical for anyone, especially for Latinas, to seek out the people who will champion you. Who aligns with your mission. We need someone to advocate for us when we are not in the room. That's the biggest thing. Advocate for me when I am in the room, advocate for me when I am not in the room. Finding those key people along the way who are going to help open the door and give that exposure. That's where you can take all your amazing skills and get your skills out there for people to see.

Lawndale Bilingual News: How has working with Oncourse Home Solutions helped to evolve your professional life?

Hillock: I can without a shadow of a doubt, if you had asked me 15 years ago would I have thought that I would be in the position I am today, I would say “no.” I don't know if I would have seen myself this advanced in my career, this advanced in this organization. And it's not because the opportunity wasn't there it's because I had not gotten my degree. I had gone through some challenges. So, while “yes,” I had the drive to move forward, I couldn't by no means say that I expected to be where I am at now. This organization taught me some of things I didn't know that I didn't know. You can learn business from a textbook, you need foundationally the understanding of business. The experience that I've gotten along the way, the intricacies of business, how handling and supporting partners, not just customers, how you must show up, learning those things and honestly, it's the external opportunities, too.

Lawndale Bilingual News: What does Hispanic Heritage Month mean to you?

Hillock: I'm sure when you talk to anyone in the community, it's a big deal. So not only is my dad from Mexico, but his father was from Peru. Hispanic Heritage month is important because it teaches us about all different kinds of Hispanic and Latinx heritages. It's not only someone's preconceived notion of what someone who is Hispanic looks like, talks like, acts like, etc., it's about the collective and the diversity. The other side of celebrating Hispanic Heritage Month is really my dad. He couldn't be proud. He was proud internally, but he couldn't be as proud as he wanted to be because it meant not finding a job. It meant not advancing. Hispanic Heritage Month is probably an even bigger deal to me because we lost our family name. My father had to sacrifice for his family. He had to hide his background, who he was, where he came from and it's not fair. But nothing in life is 100 percent fair. That means it's even more important for me to stand, proud and loud and celebrate where we came from and who we are as a community.

cuando hacia una solicitud para el colegio. No sabía que no sabía porque no tenía necesariamente una gran red de personas que hubieran estado ahí antes o personas en las que podía apoyarme para servirme de guía. Con el tiempo he construido esa red y creo que es indispensable para todos, especialmente para las latinas, buscar a gente que las apoye. Que se alinea con tu misión. Necesitamos a alguien que abogue por nosotros cuando no estamos en el lugar. Eso es lo principal. Aboga por mí cuando estoy en la sala, aboga por mí cuando no estoy en la sala. Encontrar la gente clave a lo largo del camino que van a ayudarte a abrir la puerta y dar esa exposición. Ahí es donde puedes llevar tus increíbles habilidades y mostrarlas para que el mundo las vea.

Lawndale Bilingual News: ¿Cómo te ha ayudado trabajar con Oncourse Home Solutios a evolucionar en tu vida profesional?

Hillock: Sin lugar a dudas, si me hubieran preguntado hace 15 años si habría pensado que estaría en la posición en la que estoy hoy, diría que no. No sé si me hubiera visto tan avanzada en mi carrera, tan avanzada en esta organización. Y no es porque no hubiera tenido la oportunidad, es porque no había obtenido mi título. Había pasado por algunos retos. Por lo tanto, si bien “sí”, tenía el impulso para seguir adelante, de ninguna manera diría que esperaba estar donde estoy ahora. Puedes aprender negocios con un libro de texto, necesitas una comprensión básica de los negocios. La experiencia que he adquirido a lo largo del camino, las complejidades de los negocios, cómo tratar y apoyar a los socios, no solo a los clientes, cómo debes estar presente, aprender esas cosas y, honestamente, también están las oportunidades externas.

Lawndale Bilingual News: ¿Qué significa para ti el Mes de la Herencia Hispana?

Hillock: Estoy segura de que cuando hablas con alguien en la comunidad esto es un gran problema. No solo que mi padre es de México, sino que su padre era de Perú. El Mes de la Herencia Hispana es importante porque nos enseña las diferentes clases de herencias hispanas y latinas. No es solo la noción preconcebida de alguien que se ve, habla, actúa, etc., como latino, es sobre lo colectivo y la diversidad. El otro lado de celebrar el Mes de la Herencia Hispana es realmente mi papá. No podría estar más orgulloso. Él estaba orgulloso internamente, pero no podía estar tan orgulloso como quería porque eso significaba no encontrar un trabajo. Significaba no progresar. El Mes de la Herencia Hispana probablemente es algo aún más importante para mí porque perdimos nuestro apellido. Mi padre tuvo que sacrificarse por su familia. Tuvo que ocultar sus antecedentes, quién era, de dónde venía y eso no es justo. Pero nada en la vida es cien por ciento justo. Eso significa que para mí es aún más importante estar de pie, orgulloso y en voz alta celebrar de dónde venimos y quiénes somos como comunidad.
